

Contact: Amy Wisner
317.610.4620
317.847.0745 cell
awiser@inhp.org
www.inhp.org

MEDIA ADVISORY

INHP Hosts Four Block Parties in June National Homeownership Month sets stage for homeownership events

INDIANAPOLIS—The Indianapolis Neighborhood Housing Partnership (INHP) has partnered with area businesses and resources to host four Block Parties in June centered around Indianapolis’ neighborhoods and homeownership preparation.

Each event is free of charge and includes a fun area with children’s activities, snacks, games, prizes, live local entertainment, and exhibitors from neighborhood businesses and resources. In addition, each event offers opportunities for one-on-one credit assessments and an INHP Money Management class on site.

The first event happened last Saturday on Indianapolis’ Westside and saw more than 500 people attend the event in combination with West Indianapolis’ annual Community Day. Upcoming dates and locations for Block Parties are:

June 12: Central Indy (sponsored by Harris Bank/Freddie Mac, in partnership with King Park Area Development Corporation)
10am-4pm
Oaks Academy, 2301 N. Park Avenue

June 19: Eastside (sponsored by Chase, in partnership with Indy-east Asset Development)
10am-4pm
Parking lot just East of the John H. Boner Community Center, 2236 E. 10th Street

June 26: Southside (in partnership with University of Indianapolis)
10am-4pm
University of Indianapolis in front of the Schwitzer Student Center, 1400 Hanna Ave.

More details about the Block Parties can be found at www.inhp.org/myblock.

About INHP

INHP is a trusted 21-year-old nonprofit that empowers working families to become and remain long-term, successful homeowners. The mission of INHP is to increase safe, decent, affordable housing opportunities that foster healthy, viable neighborhoods.

For more information, visit www.inhp.org/myblock